Multicultural Aged Care Inc. (MAC)

Multicultural Aged Care Inc. (MAC) aims to strengthen the ethnic community's capacity to develop and manage the care of their older people and to support and assist service providers to give older people, from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, the services of their choice.

In partnership with the Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing, under the PICAC (Partners in Culturally Appropriate Care) initiatives, Multicultural Aged Care Inc. provides:

- Identification of the special needs and barriers for accessing services for older people from diverse cultural backgrounds.
- Information to policy makers, service providers and other stakeholders about the issues affecting aged people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.
- Support for culturally and linguistically diverse communities and aged care service providers in the development of sustainable partnerships by way of clusters, ethno-specific or multicultural aged care services.
- Assistance to service providers to gain the knowledge, understanding and skills to deliver culturally inclusive services.
- Development of resources on culturally appropriate aged care.

- Promotion and encouragement for the participation of ethnic communities as an essential element in the planning, development and delivery of culturally appropriate services.
- Promotion of high quality care practices within the aged care sector.

The Home and Community Care Program funds Multicultural Aged Care Inc. through the Office for the Ageing to:

- Assist ethnic communities to develop and deliver services for their older people.
- Assist mainstream service providers to improve their responsiveness to the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse communities.

Ethnic Link Services (ELS)

Ethnic Link Services (ELS) is a service funded by HACC. It is based in the four Metro regions as well as the Riverland and Whyalla. Clients are the frail aged, people with disabilities and their carers of CALD background. ELS undertakes the following:

- Employs bilingual/bicultural workers who provide language assistance and advocacy to clients
- Provides advocacy and supports to clients as it links clients to services to assist them to remain living at home.
- Assists with information provision in their own language and arranging appointments.

ELS works in partnership with a range of agencies including ethnic community agencies and mainstream services.

ELS also works with CALD communities and facilitates groups for CALD aged including the Spanish Speaking, Bosnian and African communities - to relieve social isolation.
